Introduction

Begin by describing a recent change for you, for example a new piece of technology; a new colleague; a recent promotion or change of responsibility...

Can the children describe things that have changed for them since last year?

Draw out that sometimes changes are chosen and that these are often positive changes, for example, when we get something new, such as a new electronic device.

However, some changes can be more challenging and are sometimes changes we do not choose, but happen anyway such as: we move to a different area; someone we know dies; a new brother or sister is born; a friend leaves school; parents split up; a parent has a new partner...

Children talk with a partner about how they felt when they got something new [e.g. an electronic device, or a special present.]

Then they share responses with the whole class
[excited, happy, felt more grown up etc.]

Talk with a partner about how they felt when something happened that wasn't their choice [e.g. moved house/changed school.]

Share their thoughts and reflections.

Activity - Sophie's story

Read the story with the pupils then ask:

1. How do you think Sophie feels when she overhears them talking?
2. Why does she wait out in the hall?
3. Why do you think the grown-ups hadn't shared the conversation with her?
4. What positives may come of a move to Carl's house for Sophie? [e.g. new friends, a bigger house, a good school, a step-dad and a family home...]
5. What anxieties do you think she may have about a move to Carl's house? [Leaving friends, losing what she is familiar with is a possible disruption to her studies at school.]

Next, working in pairs, children read and discuss the Helpful or unhelpful? Activity sheet. Give them a few minutes to decide their responses to this - helpful or unhelpful. As well as a tick in the appropriate columns they could also write down their ideas here.

As a class, go through the possible response to the move and ask them whether they think these would help or not help Sophie.

Take each response one at a time and allow explanation/discussion.

Praise thoughtful contributions and explore the range of different ways people might deal with their feelings.

Next, in groups of three, children role-play a conversation between Sophie, her mum and Carl.

Choose one of the conversations to show to the class. Invite the class to suggest ideas for improvement.

Another child could take a role as the conversation is replayed, with improvements added. Further suggestions could be invited and another child could take a role.

What can help someone to make a change more easily?

Summing up

Changes happen all through our lives. Many changes we don't notice as they can be quite small and happen slowly. Bigger changes or changes that happen suddenly can be easier to manage if we have people who support us.

Who can help support us with changes?

How can we support others?

Adapting lessons for learners with additional needs

Our additional Signposting and Support page provides further guidance on adapting SCARF lessons to meet the needs of learners with additional needs.

SCARF

Action	Tick if you think this might help.	Tick if you think it might not help.
She shuts herself in her room and refuses to talk to either her mum or Carl.
Sophie keeps in touch with her old friends via social media.
She talks to her friends about how she felt when her mum's boyfriend moved in.
Sophie argues continuously with her mother and blames her for everything that doesn't go smoothly.
Sophie tells her mother that she is pleased that she is happy with Carl and talks with her about the exciting new opportunities moving will bring.
She pretends to be okay about the move and keeps her anxieties to herself.
She talks about the situation and her anxieties with her dad.
